MEN FREED OF ARSON CHARGES

C. Dawsey and Jim Bynum, who were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Baxley Saturday afternoon on charges of arson in connection with the partial destruction by fire of the Foster Street Methodist church parsonage last year, were dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence.

Mrs. Ed Inge was the witness introduced by the state. She swore to having heard one of the defendants tell the other that certain parties in town would give them money to burn the parsonage. After the fire, she said she heard another conversation between them in which they talked about how the stair case burned, etc. The testimony was not corroborated.

Dawsey, who lives at Grimes, established an alibi and proved by a number of witnesses that he was in Dothan at the time of the fire.

Detective Cole, whose name was signed to the warrants, was not present to assist in the prosecution. Justice Baxley said that Cole came to his house one night and took out the warrants, and that he had never seen the man before nor since then.

WEAK, AILING CHILDREN

Made Well and Strong by Simple Remedy.

Here is another letter that has just come to our attention, showing the power of Vinol to build up health and strength for weak, puny, ailing children.

W. A. Smith, of Shawnee, Ohio, says: "My little child was puny, weak and ailing, could not rest at night and would not eat. I learned about Vinol and tried it, and within a week noticed an improvement. The child's appetite improved, it slept well, strength and health were soon built up. We think Vinol is excellent for weak, puny children."

Vinol is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, containing beef peptone, which creates an appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and creates strength. Child loves to take it.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones. N. H. McCallum, Druggist.

C. J. Fowler of Blountstown, Fla., is in town today.

RICH FARMER STUDIES HARD

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 21.—Three months ago John Matz, of Idabel, Okla., could neither read nor write, although he is past middle age. He is a well-to-do farmer and owns a farm that is worth $75,000. When a night school was established in his district, Matz enrolled and has since been a regular attendant.

The farmer's first letter was written to State Superintendent H. H. Wilson, and in it the writer expresses his pleasure at being able to read and write. He said the lack of education had not prevented him from acquiring property, but it had put him at a disadvantage all through life.

When the night schools were established throughout the state a few months ago, Supt. Wilson requested the students to write him as soon as they were able to write. He has received many letters, some of them hardly legible, but others plainly written and the words nearly all spelled.

They indicate that many of the students in the night schools are making wonderful advancement.

One farmer wrote that his newly acquired education had come to him getting him into trouble. "When I go to town I read all the signs," he wrote, "and two or three times I have come near running over someone with my automobile."

A farmer in Kiowa county has written to Supt. Wilson that he intends to go to the State University as soon as he has fitted himself to enter, although he is now 45 years old. He has a son in the university now and hopes to be able to go when the boy comes back to run the farm.

BOX SUPPER

There will be a box supper given Wednesday night at Boyer school house. An enjoyable program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited to attend.

REAL ESTATE.

For Sale:

20 acres inside city limits, less one lot 50 by 150 feet, facing one street more than 600 feet and 1320 feet on another together with nice 7 room house, 2 car house and good barn and other out-buildings, all for $15,000. Located in good white neighborhood. Finest proposition at all for a nice poultry and truck farm. About $3000.00 of this can be carried at 8 per cent, if desired.

Would sell ten acres with all improvements, less one lot, for $3000.00 or will sell ten acres improved at $1750.00. You can't afford not to look into this proposition.

LITTLE MISS WEAR "GROWN-UP" CLOTHING IN CHARITY FASHION SHOW

Miss Dorothy Kaufman and Miss May Untermyer. New York, Nov. 18.—One of the most novel of fashion shows was held at Delmonico's Sunday and Monday, November 14 and 15, in aid of the Widowed Mothers' Pension Fund Association. More than 20 little girls from six to eleven years of age, were dressed in gowns fashioned by the smartest New York dressmakers. The little girls marched and swayed and turned on their toes just to do the real manikins in fashion exhibits.

DAN HURST, 13, JOINS CHURCH

Wounded Lad Tells Pastor He Made Peace with Maker 3 or 4 Years Ago.

GROVER HURST DEAD
Grover Hurst died Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the victim of a dynamite accident. Interment at Prospect church, east of town, this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Grover Hurst, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hurst, who was injured when a box of dynamite caps exploded in a field four miles west of town Thursday, has been received into the membership of the First Presbyterian church of Dothan.

From his pulpit Sunday morning, Rev. Robert L. Campbell, the pastor announced that he had visited the lad and that he told him that he had made his peace with the Lord some three or four years ago. However, he wanted to become a member of the church and his wish was gratified. Mr. Campbell baptized the boy during a period of consciousness.

WILL ORGANIZE BOYS PIG CLUB

State Pig Club Agent and County Farm Agent to Visit Rural Schools Today.

For the purpose of organizing pig clubs in the county and promoting interest among farm boys in hog raising, J. S. Ford, state pig club agent and L. J. Thompson, county farm demonstration agent, left this morning to visit certain parts of the county.

The two workers will visit some of the leading rural schools, usually where two teachers are employed, for there the greatest number of boys are to be found.

"How to make money out of hogs," will be the general object of Mr. Ford, and he hopes to tell the boys how this may be done.

In the pig club work prizes of valuable premiums will be offered as special inducements, although no premiums in cash are to be offered. It is believed this will give a great inducement to boys. The prizes will consist of pure-bred pigs, scholarships in certain schools, etc.

ATLANTA WOMAN KILLED

HOSPITAL MEETING

Dr. Hutchinson of Pensacola, Fla., made an address at the city hall auditorium Saturday night, showing the needs of a public hospital for this city and section. His hearers were greatly interested in his suggestions, which were good and timely.

Union Services At First Baptist Church Thursday

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the First Baptist church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and Rev. Robert L. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will preach the sermon.

The different churches of the city will participate in the occasion, and no doubt the church will be full. Special music will be provided.

Rev. Robert L. Campbell, in making the announcement of the union services from his pulpit Sunday night, urged all to be on hand promptly at 10 o'clock. He said that while he was not master of ceremonies for the occasion, he hoped that the program would be carried out without delay. He hopes to be home by 11 o'clock to get ready for that Thanksgiving dinner, he said.

W. D. Stephens has returned from a trip to Round Lake and Campuses Lake in the interest of the Bay Line road.

SAYS CHURCH IS NO PLACE FOR LEVITY

Speaker Calls Attention to Desecration of Sabbath in Dothan.

Desecration of the Sabbath day in Dothan on Sunday was the leading theme of a talk by L. E. Morgan at the Christian Endeavor Society Sunday night.

Mr. Morgan did not point out specifically how the Sabbath is desecrated in Dothan on Sunday, but he said that it was and he made the point that the society could be useful in encouraging a more solemn observance of the day.

The speaker also called attention to levity and flippancy conversations sometimes carried on in church and said that people should have more respect for the sacredness of God's houses. The church, according to him, theory is not a place for levity and the discussion of the every day of life.

REASONABLE PREPAREDNESS.

Savannah News.

Speaker Clark has told President Wilson he favors a programme of national defense within "reasonable limits." That is not enlightening. What is reasonable to one man is unreasonable to another. Some people want the navy to be greater than Great Britain's; others want to increase it at all. Each one thinks it is reasonable and the other not unreasonable. In the Democratic party there are not many opinions of what is reasonable preparation for defense, as there are Democratic congressmen but the variety of opinions among them is very large. Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, is talking of fighting the President's programme, to those who think the president is not going far enough in his defense policy.

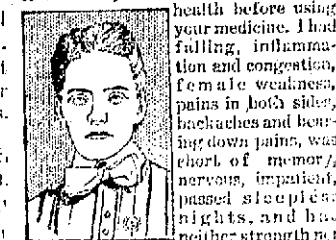

"preparedness" upon which Congress agrees may not be "reasonable," but it will be very nearly an average of what the people of the country want. And if their present temper continues through the coming session of Congress, it is safe to expect that provision will be made for a larger navy, for stronger coast defenses and for a trained army reserve. The country wants more "preparedness" but how much more it will get is a question only the future can answer.

REMARKABLE

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Saved Her Life
and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my head. I had a pain in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your medicine, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

Mrs. J. H. HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 72, Shamrock, Missouri.

Dothan Stays on the Map.

Dothan, Alabama, is doing its best to get on the map. Following a successful county fair Dothan now has a candidate in the race for State Superintendent of Education.—Opelika News.

Chairman of the Houston county republican committee has called a meeting of "qualified voters who are dissatisfied with the present political conditions." What the republican voter is dissatisfied with at the present writing is the pie distributing conditions.

The Birmingham newspapers, and the Troy Messenger have to hustle like rip to get enough reading matter to go around their ads and give them "position." Never in the history of Birmingham has the papers there been so loaded with prosperity—their columns about about it. And it's a dull day in Troy when Sid Blau has to get up half a dozen galleys of linotype matter to sandwich with ads.

ANOTHER PAPER FOR ABBEVILLE.

The Southeast Alabamian is the name of a new paper just issued from Abbeville. It is a 5-column six page paper, all home print, and edited by E. C. Glover, and from the way the first issue is filled with advertisements, it would appear that it is going to pay from the beginning. The editor, way back in the 90's, ran a paper in Dothan for a while, and got a taste of the business, and has never been satisfied since without a paper, and we hope that this will meet all of his expectations.

THE ALABAMA DEMOCRAT

The Alabama Democrat, about which we have heard so much, has made its appearance. Typographically it's the product of artists, and the editor's letter is prepared in good shape. It isn't too soon to read, and it makes up the paper is as good as like the Southern Woman's Magazine, printed on good book paper.

John Craft, of Mobile, is president and H. A. Thompson is secretary, Alva Fitzpatrick is editor, and Old Bob Niel, associate editor.

The Democrat is going to have something to do with politics in Alabama, but the first issue doesn't bristle much. You can see the leanings, but they are fair.

EGGS AS HUMAN FOOD.

From the Kansas City Star.
There is no other single element of human diet of either animal or vegetable character which is, perhaps, more commonly used the world over, nor served for the uses of man to a greater variety of styles and ways than are eggs; and, while the egg of the common barnyard chicken is the one most generally and universally used, a complete list of the different kinds and varieties of eggs which are somewhere subjected to the dietary uses of man must include a range extending from the ostrich to the insect—must mention ostrich, turkey, goose, duck, guinea fowl, chicken, scagull, moore, heron, sea swallow, many land birds, alligator, turtle, terrapin, lizard, serpent, fish and even insect.

Where ostriches are raised as an important industry in both the United States and South America, ostrich eggs are used as a diet, but they are generally far too valuable for breeding purposes to permit of their extensive dietary use. Goose, duck and guinea eggs are more or less extensively used as elements of human food, the last named being especially prized for delicacy of flavor. Turtle eggs, of both fresh water and salt water varieties are highly prized as a diet in most of the countries and sections in which they are found abundantly, and the eggs of the terrapin are usually served, not separately as such, but along with the flesh or meat, when prepared for the table, while sturgeon eggs and shad roe are the most common instances of the use of fish eggs as human diet; but the eggs of the alligator, of the lizard, of the snake and even of some insects are used as human food by some races which are without the prejudices of our Western civilization.

Champion Pessimist.
This one has merit of being true, anyhow, says the Saturday Evening Post.

The official pessimist of a small western city, a gentleman who had wrestled with chronic dyspepsia for years, stood in front of the postoffice as the hour whistles sounded.

"Twelve o'clock, eh?" he said, half himself and half to an acquaintance. "Well, I'm going home to dinner. If dinner ain't ready I'm going to raise trouble and if it is ready I ain't going to eat a bite."

He Knew His Son.
What the young fellow lacked in brains the father made up in money and the latter was very rich, says the New York American.

One day a well-wishing friend, thinking to give the wealthy old fellow a hint, said to him:

"Don't you think your son is wasting his time staying here in this quiet little town?"

A grim smile flickered round the old man's lips as he replied dryly:

"Well, he might just as well waste it here as anywhere else."

Now and Then

The Gaucho.
The gaucho, or cowboy of the plains of the state of Rio de la Plata, has been celebrated in song and story quite as much as has his prototype in North America, to which he closely corresponds. The gaucho is not always, however, a cowboy; he is occasionally a rover and his intimate knowledge of frontier life has been of great value in the gradual development of Argentina's vast Patagonian wilderness.

War Prayer.
O Lord, help us to tear the soldiers of the foe to bloody shreds with our shells, help us to cover their smiling fields with the pale forms of their patriot dead; help us to lay waste their humble homes with a hurricane of fire; help us to wring the hearts of their offending widows with unavailing grief. Hasten their hopes, blight their lives, water their way with their tears.—Mark Twain.

Nails Made by Hand.
It seems hardly credible that it was almost to the close of the eighteenth century that most nails were made by hand. Other countries were very slow to follow the lead of England in getting out nails in large quantities. In France for nearly a century light nails for carpenter work were made from wire, but until 1850 they were made by hand with a hammer.

Verbal Economy.
Little Johnny's mother asked him the other day how he liked some new play-fellows, whose family had lately settled in the village. "They play all right, mummy; but they use awful naughty swear-words sometimes." "Oh, Johnny!" "You needn't mind, mummy. I don't use swear-words back. I only say to them 'Ditto!'"—Stray Stories.

Cossack "Adventurers."
The word "Cossack," itself, is a derivative from the Turkish prototype of "adventurer," which is a typical word for the description of these roving horsemen. The Cossack population of Russia amounts to roughly 2,500,000 men and women, and they collectively own some 110,000,000 acres of Russian territory.

Dried Apples Popular.
The drying of apples has become one of the great industries of the day, and people who live on the farms and in villages and towns are just as enthusiastic about the prospect of apple pie and sauce from dried fruit as are the people living in closely segregated sections of our large cities.

To Get Rid of Rats.
A good way to get rid of rats is to collect some thin chips, pieces of shingles, or tin, and pour over them enough kerosene to cover them. Sprinkle dry lye over the chips and place them in every rat hole you can find. The rats will soon move out.

For the Teeth.
To prevent tartar forming on the teeth dip an orange stick in clear lemon juice and rub it all over the teeth and close up to the gum line or five times a week. Once or twice a day rub the gums with glycerin.

Hard Job.

Movements of the Heart.

Old Age.
"Old age," said John Burroughs, the great naturalist, "is not so much a pagano after all. I like it, in many ways, better to live with than youth, because he leaves you more at your ease; you are in the calmer waters; the fire and fever of life have greatly abated. Old age brings the philosophical mind; he brings a deeper, wider outlook upon life; he brings more tolerance and charity and good will. I did not squander my youth in excesses, and hence I am not bankrupt in my old age."

Almost Impossible Task.
The twenty-six letters of the alphabet may be transposed in so many millions of ways that all the inhabitants of the globe could not in a thousand million years write out all the possible transpositions of the twenty-six letters, even supposing that each wrote forty pages daily, each page containing forty different transpositions.

His Defective Memory.
An absent-minded piano tuner forgot at a Chicago hotel, forgot the names of both hotel and street, and had to put an "ad" in the paper, asking where a man by his name had registered. This is better than the bearded quip on the artist who put his umbrella to bed and stood all night in the corner.

Artificial Coffee.
A young Japanese in Hyogo is reported to have invented artificial coffee almost equal in every respect to natural Brazilian coffee. As the result of chemical analysis by experts it is said that the goods now manufactured by the young inventor are more wholesome than the natural bean, while retaining all its flavor and quality.

Value of Acquaintance.
A gentleman who was spending a month in the Highlands went to hire a carriage for the purpose of taking his family for a drive. He looked at a vehicle and inquired how many it would hold. The crier scratched his head thoughtfully and replied: "It holds four generally, but six if they're west acquaintances!"

Submarines.
It is almost impossible to fix the precise date of the origin of the idea of the submarine boat. It is hundreds of years old, to say the least. The practical submarine is, of course, quite modern, dating back not more than fifteen or twenty years.

When the Time Will Come.
Men With Paper—"Here's a preacher in Syracuse, New York, declares that the time will come when there will be no wars in the world." Pessimist—"Well, the world is due to end sometime."—Canadian Courier.

Wanted to See Them.
Cedric (meeting Clarence in the park)—"Well, old chap, what are you doing now?" Clarence—"Just admiring the beauties of nature." Cedric—"Aw, I say, have many gone by?" New York Globe.

Uses for Raisins and Figs.
Both raisins and figs, split open, make good poultices for boils. A split raisin, placed over the gum, often gives relief to the toothache sufferer. Figs are valuable as a laxative.

A Safe Dare.
Bishop Moreland said that a married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but will dare anyone of them to wear a hero medal.

For the Canary.
A little fresh or salt pork covered with cayenne pepper and hung in the cage is a great treat for canary birds and does their health good.

Apparent Contradiction.
"She told her husband around her little finger." "Why, I thought you said she had him under her thumb."—Baltimore American.

Deal in Frozen Milk.
In some parts of Siberia milk is sold frozen around a piece of wood, which serves as a handle to carry it.

Cannibal God.
Fijian cannibals worship a god named Sata Vataba, who has eight stomachs, and is always eating.

Copper.
The electrical conductivity of copper depends on the total amount of impurities therein.

Lacrosse an Indian Game.
The game of lacrosse is of American origin and was introduced by Canadian Indians.

No Smoke Without Fire.
There can be great smoke arise, but there can't be too much smoke.
